PHILIP KINLEY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, July 6.—William McAdoo organized his "ballot box" in a meeting of 1000
persons at the Waldorf-Astoria last night. He promised that the "ballot box" would be open to the public in the light to the Democratic National Convention in order not to allow the influence of the people to influence the result of the election. He also promised that

FAILURE CROWNS EFFORT FOR DEMOCRATIC PEACE

Harmony Committee Quits Task;
McAdoo Blocks Vote Releasing;
Stampede Fears Growing

NEW YORK, July 7.—The harmony committee, created by the Democratic National Convention to devise means for breaking the deadlock on the nomination for President, found itself hopelessly deadlocked at 12:30 o'clock this morning and abandoned the undertaking for the time being at least. When the committee, representing all the candidates, adjourned shortly thereafter, it was with the decision to report to the convention when it reassembles at 11 a.m. today the efforts made to resolve the impasse and the various proposals of procedure on which it was unable to agree.

THE principal developments of the night were:

(1.) The anti-McAdoo forces proposed that all delegates be released from instructions and pledges to all candidates and allowed to vote for the candidates of their choice.

(2.) McAdoo rejected this proposal and countered with the suggestion that the unit rule and two-thirds rule be abolished; that nominations be made by a simple majority, and that in balloting the vote be cast on each roll call before the roll call be dropped.

(3.) The anti-McAdoo leaders rejected the McAdoo counter proposal and the committee thereupon decided an agreement on a harmony program was impossible.

SMITH MAY QUIT
(4.) George E. Brennan, with Al Smith prepared to withdraw from the contest, held a series of conferences with the favorite sons of the Democratic party in order to effect a union of all the anti-McAdoo groups and some of the McAdoo following on Senator
Robinson of Arkansas as a compromise candidate.

(5.) Some of the McAdoo leaders, preparing for the eventual elimination of the Californian, indicated they would prefer Senator Robinson of Arkansas as a compromise, while others suggested Senator Glass of Virginia.

(6.) The anti-McAdoo leaders, despite McAdoo's refusal to join in the agreement, unconditionally released their delegates from instructions and pledges to support him in putting over a dark horse.

(7.) Ed Moore, the Ohio leader, announced that a propitious moment in the convention had been reached and that he would move the adoption of a resolution providing for the release of McAdoo as well as anti-McAdoo delegates from instructions and the abolition of the unit rule and two-thirds rule.

As a result of the failure to agree on a harmony program the convention will be resumed today with the war between the two factions entering upon a more desperate stage.

In some quarters the opinion is expressed that the delegates in a mood of depression will run
amok before the end of the convention tonight and name a candidate by the stampede process.

In case the proposed stampede
over by the conference to the convention this morning result in no change of the status quo, balloting
will be resumed with two voting bodies in the morning and the favorite sons by virtue of which the New York contest of the will withdraw at the appropriate time, and all the anti-McAdoo groups will unite in support of the favorite sons as the sole opponent of the Californian candidate.

The tactics of George E. Brennan of Illinois, the Smith strategist, are now directed toward placing Mc-Adoo on the defensive as the one responsible for a failure in the harmony negotiations.

McADOO IN CONFERENCE
The McAdoo counter-proposal was drafted after a long conference between the candidate and his managers and afterward Mr. Mc-Adoo reaffirmed in an address to his delegates supporting him to the nomination not to withdraw.
His spokesmen said after tonight's disagreement among the candidates' managers, however, that no attempt would be made to prevent the proposal of the fifteen candidates from reaching a vote
in the convention.

The representatives of the candidates had been sitting with Senator Walsh of Montana, chairman of the convention, under authorization of the convention itself. At the close of the conference, Chairman Hull, after referring to the release proposal of the representatives of the fifteen candidates and the counter-proposal of Mr. Mc-Adoo, dictated the following statement:

"The sum total of what I had in mind in connection with the proceedings of the conference in addition to those things which the fifteen who submitted the first proposal submitted to me
on their own independent action resolved whether they were accepted or not by the representatives of the other candidates. Their delegates are released so far as these fifteen candidates are concerned. That is my interpretation of the action of the conference.
That is a matter between the candidates and the delegates.

REPORT TO CONVENTION
The conference will doubtless report to the convention the progress it has made thus far, especially as it relates to the action of the representatives of the fifteen candidates. That will be reported to the convention along with the counter proposal of Mr.
McAdoo. It is a matter entirely for the convention to determine what action it will take. The candidates have the undoubted right

CEE CALLES AS WINNER

Quiet Conditions Reported in Southern Republic as Ballots Are Cast

Presidential Election Day Declared Most Orderly
for Many Years

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—Gen.
Calles apparently was elected a president of the republic in the partisan election today. Although the election was held in the city of Mexico, his opponent, Gen.
Flores, his opponent, were inter-sively active during the day, the general public manifested only slightly more than casual interest.
Election of members of Congress
held the greater attraction.

A statement from Calles's headquarters at 155 claimed a majority of 5,000.
Messages from all sections of the republic claiming a majority for their candidates were received.

Although the general belief is that Calles carried the Mexico City Federal District official computation of the vote will not be made until Congress convenes on September 1. It is believed likely that Flores will attempt to discredit the count in this district. It is also believed that Calles will be elected.

QUIET ELECTION
Dispatches from Guadalajara,
second city of the republic, report
a quiet election due to the government's strict measures against disorders. Both sides claim a victory but it is generally believed the dispatches state that Flores will lose the election.

Nine persons were in hospitals
tonight as a result of clashes here today in connection with the election. Two of them were injured treated for bullet wounds.
while the others were cut or bruised.

Despite these minor incidents,
however, the elections were carried out in an orderly manner,
the support of Calles and Flores being the quietest election day in many years.

Only one case of violent interference with the election process was reported—that being in the theft of ballot boxes from a booth in the morning. A number of men who drove up in an automobile and overpowered the officials.

When the polls opened this morning the voters were greeted with a profusion of posters placed on walls, poles, public buildings and statues during the night by supporters of rival Presidential candidates.

Pro-Calles placards had been placed in the morning and a number of private residences were smeared with black paint with "Vote for Calles" and "Long Live Calles" the most popular slogan.

WORK FOR CALLES
During the morning, labor
groups patrolled the streets in automobile trucks loudly proclaiming their support of Calles. The noise and disturbance of any consequence to noon today was a raid by three automobile loads of voters who were on their way to the polls.

The authorities were prepared for eventualities, the troops being held in barracks. Ten armored cavalry trucks were engaged in patrolling the streets. All stores and bars were closed. Douglas staffs were on duty at the Red and White Hospital stations and ambulances were ready for any calls. A majority of the residents here remained indoors during the election.

CALLES FOR DRY MEXICO
Leader of Progressive Party Says Candidate Sees Benefit to Country in Prohibition

A movement to make Mexico dry may follow the election of Gen. Calles as President of the southern republic, which was indicated in dispatches last night, according to Guillermo S. Rosell, the City Attorney of Mexico City and counsel for the Mexican Railway.

Mr. Rosell, now at the Biltmore, is here on a vacation after four months of strenuous campaigning in every part of Mexico in the interest of the candidate of Gen. Calles. He is accompanied by Lambert O'Brien,
a nephew of President Obregon.

Gen. Calles favors prohibition and during his term as Governor of Sonora he declared that State dry, said Mr. Rosell. "He has followed closely the developments of the prohibition movement in the United States and is of the opinion that the dry law has been a good thing for this country and would be of equal value in Mexico."

Mr. Rosell is one of the leaders of the Progressive party, a pro-republican, or Progressive party
of Mexico, which supports Gen.
Calles, and he stated that his objections to the prohibition movement were to the extent of indicated that Calles has a large following in every part of the country.

The Progressive party is composed largely of the middle class of Mexico and is a development of the efforts made by the Obre-gon administration to create interest in political activities
among the common people, said Mr. Rosell.

The efforts have been successful to the extent of breaking the control of the military upper class, which has hitherto dominated the Mexican national system.

CATERPILLARS TAKE DISTRICT

Women Carry Umbrellas to Protect Them from Tree Worms

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, July 6.—A plague of caterpillars, so thick that girls and women are carrying umbrellas as a precaution against them has settled on the neighborhood of Stuyvesant avenue and Bainbridge street, Brooklyn.
There are many trees in the neighborhood, and these are the breeding places of the pests. Great clusters and festoons of crawling caterpillars hang from the branches of the trees, and the street sidewalks. During the last ten days, according to residents of the vicinity,
the plague has become so bad that children are kept indoors.

Many fine trees in the neighborhood especially the white maples and lindens,
have been stripped of foliage.

RUMANIAN
ENVOY MAY COME HOME

Reports State Recall is Ordered in Protest of Oil Land Seizure

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BUCHAREST, July 6.—It is reported that the American Department of State is recalling Peter Augustus Jay, American Envoy
and Minister Plenipotentiary at Bucharest, in protest against the seizure of oil lands in Rumania.

This law practically confiscates
$100,000,000 worth of foreign oil properties in Rumania, and rights except a comparatively small percent already leased by private owners will be nationalized immediately. Foreign oil companies will be permitted to exploit oil lands already leased, but the government will not lease new oil properties
to them.

As these companies constantly threaten to withdraw from the country in protest of the seizure of the oil lands, the government within a few months.

The oil companies therefore must be recalled from Rumania, and stock to Rumanians—specifically to members of the Bratianu party
—at any price the latter choose to pay.

The government already has nationalized all pipe lines in Rumania, and the oil companies are being forced to sell their shares at a price of 50 per cent of the value of the shares.

Foreign protests have caused so much anxiety throughout Rumania that the Cabinet has decided to undertake a propaganda campaign
in foreign newspapers to try to show that the mining law is not harmful to foreign interests.

The fall of the law has weakened the dictatorship of the Bratianu brothers and anything that has been patterned in Rumania for two years. A further step is a terrific explosion blew
the force the downfall of the dictatorship.

LAW REFORMS INDORSED
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as endorsing the movement recently launched by the Missouri Association for reforms in criminal law procedure.

ONE DEAD IN STREET
DUEL AT FLAGSTAFF

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) July 6.— Gunfire flared from two pistols in the hands of Juan Gonzales and Carmel Ramirez when they faced each other in the street here yesterday. Gonzales fell dead. Ramirez, although wounded in the right leg, escaped. The pair duelled on the street after carrying their altercation from a crowded poolroom.

DR. SPLAWN CHOSEN
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

AUSTIN (Tex.) July 6.—Dr.
Walter Splawn, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, was named president of the University of Texas. He will assume his new duties between now and September 1. Dr. Herbert E.
Bolton of the University of Southern California, was elected to the post several months ago, but in a message to members of the board of regents definitely declined.

OLE PAINTING STOLEN
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—A collection of six valuable oil paintings, including works of William Keith and Thad Wain, were stolen from the law office of Griffin Henshaw Thursday night. He reported to the local police today. The paintings were valued at several thousand dollars.

ARIZONA ROTARIAN HONORED
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PHOENIX, July 6.—A telegram from Toronto last night advised the nomination of George B. Todd to be governor of the newly-formed Arizona Rotary Club district. He was president last term of the local club. He succeeded G. A. Martin of the El Paso Herald, who provided over a district that stretched from Needles to Northwestern Texas.

SHIP FIRE'S TOLL GAINS

Six Bodies Found
in Hulk

Brings Total of Victims of Fire Off Baltimore
Saturday to Ten

Fifty-three River Survivors
Rescued by Steamers
From Lifeboats

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BALTIMORE, July 6.—The bodies of five boys, members of the Baltimore Evening Sun's newsboy band, and that of a negro, were found in the hulk of the bay steamer Three Rivers today when the remains of the vessel, which was burned to the water line in Chesapeake Bay early Saturday morning, were towed into Baltimore.

This brings the total number of victims of the fire up to ten and accounts for all those known to be missing.

The body of a white man, believed to be James Truitt of Baltimore, was found floating in the bay off Cove Point late yesterday,
and shortly before, the body of a negro, around which was strapped a life preserver of the Three Rivers, was washed ashore on Hooper's Island.

The bodies of two other negroes had been found shortly after the disaster.

The steamer was en route to Baltimore from Crisfield, Md., when the fire was discovered on
the saloon deck about midnight.
It gained headway rapidly, and the passengers and crew were forced to take to life boats and life preservers. Several passing steamers came to the aid of the burning vessel and picked up more than fifty of the survivors.

An investigation has been begun by the Baltimore, Chesapeake
and Atlantic Railway Company, owners of the ship, and the Board of Fire Commissioners of Baltimore. The investigation will start an inquiry this week, it was announced.

DYNAMITE
KILLS WIFE; MATE HELD

Batteries and Wires Are Found After Explosion;
Husband ex-Mine Layer

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONGVIEW (Wash.) July 6.—
Mrs. Rudolph Otto, 16 years of age, wife of Rudolph Otto, 25, was blown to death by a dynamite explosion, believed by deputy sheriffs to have been set off by her husband, near Coffin Rock, one mile from here, late yesterday. Her husband is in custody, but denies responsibility for the tragedy.

Mrs. Otto had gone to an outbuilding. Her husband was inside the house. Shortly after the entire explosion blew the building outbuilding to pieces and threw Mrs. Otto forty feet away. Wires, two dry batteries, and parts of dynamite cases were found by deputy sheriffs. Her husband was a mine layer in the North Sea with the American Navy during the World War. Since last August he has been in the United States Veterans' Hospital in Portland.

The couple were married in May,
1923, and had been separated since December.

POSTAL FIGURES GIVEN
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 6.—
Postal receipts at the San Antonio
Postoffice for June were $779,243.31,
a gain of $4,316.32 over June, 1923.
This is a decrease compared with
May, 1924, which was $86,016.71.
The total receipts for the first six months of 1924 were $5,745,457, as compared to $5,725,551 for the same period last year.

NAMED MEDICAL OFFICER
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PHOENIX, July 6.—Dr. John T.
McDonald, Los Angeles, has been named sub-district medical officer, stationed in the Phoenix office of the Veterans' Bureau. His successor, Dr. R. Warner, whose resignation was effective June 30, last.

CHORUS GIRL FOUND SLAIN

Bloody Body Lies Amid Empty Liquor Bottles; Man Who Attended Party Held

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, July 6.—Following discovery of the body of Ruth Hollister, 26 years of age, a former chorus girl and artists' model, in her apartment at 8 East Thirtieth street, late yesterday afternoon, Charles Feister, 18 Linden street, Newark, N. J., was locked up at police headquarters, charged with homicide.

The discovery of the girl's body was made by Feister when he let himself into the apartment with his own key, according to the story the police said he told them.
He found the girl dressed in negligee, lying on the bed with her face resting on the floor. The upper part of her body and her face were discolored and her head was covered with blood. Empty liquor bottles were scattered about the apartment.

Tenants in the apartment house
said that they had seen Feister
and evening of the Fourth of July.
There apparently was a celebration of some kind in the apartment. Feister was seen entering and leaving throughout the evening and the early hours of the following day.

When Feister found the body
he called Dr. William Moore. Dr.
Moore said he believed the girl
had been dead for some hours.
Detectives were notified and the girl's body later was taken to the morgue for an autopsy.

Feister was taken to station
where he told detectives that he had known the girl for some time.
He admitted that he had been at the party at the apartment on Friday and said that when he left Miss Hollister was still there. He was taken to police headquarters

CANADA PLAINS ALIVE IN GAME

Hunters' Paradise is Not Confined to Forests

Farmers Lured to Prairies
by Promise of Sport

Leisure Hours Are Enjoyed
and Larder is Filled

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

WINNIPEG, July 6.—The impression that the game resources of Canada are confined principally to the heavily timbered provinces of the Eastern Dominion, says a bulletin of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is a long way from the actual truth. While the attractions of the prairie provinces to hunters and sportsmen are not so well known because they are overshadowed largely by the renown achieved by this territory in agricultural production, few areas have greater or more varied attractions for sportsmen.

No other agricultural area is visited to so great an extent by sportsmen from other countries as these prairie provinces of Canada. In fact, their reputation for game is one of the attractions moving settlers to the western plains, since the farmer realizes that it offers not only engrossing sports during his hours of leisure but furnishes a valuable supplement to his larder.

The record of hunting permits issued in Manitoba alone is chosen as an illustration of the manner in which sportsmen flock to the country supposed to be peculiarly the province of the farmer. The record for last year shows that Manitoba game wardens issued 10,168 game bird licenses and 1801 big game permits, and the returns from these licenses show that 337 deer, 339 moose, 45,332 prairie chickens, 23,628 partridges, 1359 grouse, 151 wild geese and 13,869 brant and ducks were shot. The government revenue from these licenses amounted to $31,532.

BIG GAME IS BAGGED

An average year in Alberta of big-game hunting shows the bagging of 1016 moose, sixty-eight caribou, 108 mountain sheep, forty-seven mountain goat and 1130 deer.

Many of the game birds increase with settlement, and for that reason in the more populous districts of the prairie provinces wild duck, partridge and prairie chickens are to be found in great numbers. Though the wild goose makes merely a halt in the agricultural areas on his way to and from the big lakes in the Far North, sportsmen and farmers always take a certain toll in the spring and fall migrations. In addition there are ptarmigan, plovers, woodcock, snipe, rails and coots. All these are essentially property of the settler, one of the assets of the homestead, his sports as an occasion offers and his provender. The fishing is scarcely less diversified and attractive. A partial list of the varieties of the funny tribes offered by the prairie provinces include pickerel, gold eyes, pike, white fish, lake trout, many other kinds of trout and perch. The lakes and streams in this wide area are so excellently distributed that no farmer is at a great distance from a source of fish supply, and it is a regular article of his diet. Fishing through the ice in the winter months is equally profitable and insures a seasonal supply.

Many precautions are being taken against a dangerous depletion of game resources of the prairie provinces. Bags are limited to a reasonable amount and restocking takes place where it is found necessary. A few Chinese pheasants, for instance, introduced years ago, were protected for a long period until today they are found in numbers over a large area. The Hungarian partridge, also introduced and protected in this region, has thrived and multiplied to a remarkable extent. Further importations of this game bird were made last year from Czechoslovakia.

MOOSE ROAM WOODS

The bulletin continues: "As indicated in the license figures, there is a variety of big-game hunting here. Moose are to be found in the wooded districts of the western provinces, remote from actual farming settlements, while there are deer even when agriculture is being followed, and they are plentiful beyond these areas. In the winter months coyote hunting frequently offers entertainment and profitable sport. Real big-game shooting is found in the mountain section of Alberta and British Columbia, where the mountain sheep and goat and the grizzly bear abound.

"The game of Western Canada provides a very real and valuable resource to the sportsman and farmer, one which is very frequently entirely omitted from consideration by contemplating settlers, but which, as a matter of fact, it is difficult to overestimate. A sport that is regarded elsewhere as a high privilege, for which men travel long distances and spend much money is part of the everyday life of the western provinces. The dream of the city man is the farmer's matter-of-fact reality in western Canada."

Dread Maladies Follow in Wake of Ohio Tornado

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

LORAIN (O.) July 6.—Gangrene and lockjaw spread alarmingly today among those injured in the storm which wrecked Lorain and other Northern Ohio cities a week ago. Unsanitary living conditions were blamed for the epidemic of infection by Capt. H. O. Whitaker, medical officer of the Ohio Hundred and Sixty-sixth Infantry on duty here, who urged all injured persons to report for vaccination immediately. Thirty persons were treated for gangrene and lockjaw today, Capt. Whitaker said.

ABYSSINIAN REGENT TO SEE LONDON

Will be Welcomed to Britain by Duke of York, Dined by Archbishop

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

LONDON, July 6.—Ras Tafari, Regent of Abyssinia, attended by twenty-two dusky personages, including three princes, will be greeted Monday by the Duke of York at Waterloo Station and escorted to a private house in carriages of state when he arrives here for a week's visit.

Ras Tafari is visiting England, France and Italy to see if Abyssinia can learn anything from them. He will luncheon at Buckingham Palace, dine with Prime Minister MacDonald and lunch with the Archbishop of Canterbury, his people having been Christians when the archbishop's were still pagans. Ras Tafari will not have any difficulty with the English language as the custom down in Abyssinia is to eat beef uncooked. Ras Tafari keeps cooks for European guests, but only butchers for himself and his retainers. It is feared that the distinguished guests will find even the strongest British ale a trifle mild, as when they have big doings in Abyssinia they drink a potent made from meat fermented with a potent juice of certain tree, known only to Abyssinians.

WIFE SLAYS MATE OVER PHONE CALL

Shoots Husband in Hotel at El Paso as He Talks to Los Angeles Woman

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

EL PASO, July 6.—As a result of a long-distance telephone call to another woman in Los Angeles, J. W. Carter, prominent hotel man here, was shot and fatally wounded by his wife last night in the lobby of the Oaks Hotel. Carter died early this morning at a hospital. His wife is being held in the County Jail on a charge of murder.

Witnesses present in the lobby at the time the shooting took place, state that Carter was talking over the telephone when his wife entered with a pistol in her hand and shot him after investigation proved that Carter was talking with a woman in Los Angeles. Directly after the shooting, Mrs. Carter notified the police and hid her pistol beneath a bath tub, where it was found today by detectives.

Militant Wife Ended Quarrels by Beating Him

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

RENO, July 6.—His marital experience was brief but full of excitement, Frank R. Vernon, former Los Angeles real estate man, told Judge Moran in his suit for divorce from Isabel Ruth Vernon. He testified Mrs. Vernon was a strong, militant woman, admitted by his physical superior, and that she proceeded to beat him into submission whenever they differed soon after the wedding. Vernon said his wife had a violent temper, emphasized her arguments by slapping his face, and beat him soundly whenever he remonstrated. He also testified she insisted on staying out late at night and beat him when he demanded explanations. He was given a decree.

WOMAN GETS DAMAGES

Jury Awards $45,000 to Her for Broken Bone

NEW YORK, July 6.—A jury before Supreme Court Justice McCook awarded Mrs. Kate Baumgartner, the Bronx, $45,000 damages for the broken bone of her right arm sustained by the Barrett Newspaper Company and Samuel Cohen, a fruit dealer.

Mrs. Baumgartner was injured when trucks belonging to the two defendants collided several months ago near her home. Her thigh was fractured and surgery to make the bone knit failed.

FACE DEPORTATION

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

GLOBE (APR.) July 6.—A. A. Spurgeon, inspector of the Immigration Service, states that action may be taken soon by Federal authorities toward return to Mexico of hundreds of Mexicans who have been brought in for cotton picking in the Salt River Valley, with stipulation that they were to stay only for the season, but who have settled down in this country. He has consulted with the officers of an association that is held responsible for returning the aliens and there is expectation that deportation of many of them will be started this month.

MOUNTAIN BREWERY RAIDED

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

PRESCOTT (ARIZ.) July 6.—Something new was found in the mountains near Mayer by State Prohibition Director Cassidy and a force of deputies. It was a brewery, reported to have been operated by Andrew Kalein, who is in custody. The raiders destroyed 1600 bottles of beer, as well as eighty with the headquarters organization.

Brigham Young's Will... provided for 18 wives and 48 children.

FEW men would have need of a Will as complicated as that of the famous Mormon leader. On the other hand, equally few could prepare their last document as simply as did Mathew Arnold, the English poet, who briefly wrote:

"I leave everything of which I die possessed to my wife, Frances."

Were every man's heirs so few or his possessions so meager that such a document might adequately care for them, there would be little need of the complicated laws which govern the distribution of estates. But there would always remain the necessity of providing some certain way to preserve the property that its heirs might enjoy its benefits for the longest possible time.

Statistics show that nine of every ten estates of over $5000.00 are lost within seven years. These figures tell the sad story of widows and mothers, without business experience, trying to preserve an inheritance that is constantly assailed by unscrupulous promoters of "get-rich-quick" schemes and endangered by the incompetent advice of well-meaning friends.

Would you be happier if your family had a real protection against such losses? Then create a Trust under your Will. Name a Trustee to manage, invest and conserve your property and pay its income to your beneficiaries. Such a Trust will safeguard them for as long as you wish against inexperience, mismanagement, poor advice and extravagance.

Obviously, a Trust Company, whose special business is the management and conservation of property and whose existence, and therefore protection, is not endangered by the human frailties which belong to the individual, is best qualified to serve as Trustee under your Will.

If you are interested in this Trust service, officers of any Trust Company named below will gladly outline it at length. Such consultation incurs absolutely no obligation.

Get Rid of Excess Fat!

Don't stay fat when you can gradually reduce your weight to what it should be without the slightest injury or inconvenience. Get rid of the burden that may shorten your life ten years or more. Improve your figure, look and feel younger, enjoy better health.

You don't have to go on a diet, take weakening baths or indulge in tireless exercises. Abnormal fat is generally due to the sluggish action of a small gland which permits too much food to be converted into fatty tissue. Restore this gland to proper working order and your weight should gradually reduce to the normal amount for your height.

Viatic Obesity Tablets, taken before meals, will quickly aid in bringing about this happy result. They invigorate the dormant thyroid gland so that it can again function properly and help the system rid itself of useless weight. Viatic Obesity Tablets are harmless to all. Guaranteed to contain no poisons, no harmful drugs. Price $1 a bottle at the Owl and Sun Drug Stores and all good drug stores. A. O. Schmidt Co., San Francisco, Mfrs.

OBREGON TELLS POLICY ON LOAN
Contracts Binding Republic's Hands to be Spurned
Rejection of Banker's Delay Offer is Defended
Executive Says Deferring of Payment Feasible

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
(BY CABLE-REUTERS DISPATCH)
MEXICO CITY, July 6.—President Obregon, replying to the question, "What can you say about the loan?" in a signed statement, says: "There shall not be a loan while among the clauses of its contract some conditions fundamentally affecting our decorum are pretended to be incorporated, and I deem it preferable on transferring the executive power to the one succeeding me, that the latter may find the public treasury exhausted, but all his legal and moral authority, as the representative of an autonomous nation untouched. Rather than delivering the public treasury's safe, full of gold, and his neck tied with a rope, the other end of which should be in the hands of the Secretary of the Oil Association."

The bankers informed the New York newspapers that they were well disposed, and they even suggested granting the Mexican government a delay in the payment of the loan. Do you believe that such a concession could have been obtained through a slight effort? It is true we received suggestions to demand such delay, and assuredly would have obtained it, but I consider that it would not be proper for our government to accept delay, having beforehand the certainty that we could not meet our obligation at its maturity, and on the other hand, delay would serve only to complicate still more our situation, since having obtained it we would be only able to discharge the revenues assigned for payment of foreign debt and therefore compelled to continue to deposit them.

"Otherwise we would have shown an obvious lack of earnestness in accepting a delay of six months and disposing beforehand of the funds assigned to fulfill said obligation, and we would have been placed in such a situation that our creditors could have represented us as unscrupulous in demanding the delay of an obligation of such character with the deliberate purpose of not fulfilling it, since without the constant accumulation of revenues created by that and there could be no possibility of fulfilling the obligation. In fact, what we intend by temporarily suspending the payment of the loan is to balance our budget, using provisionally the funds which were exclusively assigned to the payment of the loan, and we are confident that again be assigned to it as soon as our interior crisis is passed and our government is able to fulfill the suspended payments."

[Signed]
"The President of the Republic."

President Obregon sought only sufficient money from the international committee of bankers on Mexico, to cover the amount of interest due the 1st inst. under the Lamont-De la Huerta agreement, according to Ambassador Warren. The round number was about $8,000,000. The Ambassador explained that the attitude of the bankers created such a transaction was that it would be paying with one hand and receiving with the other.

BUDGET BALANCE
The Ambassador agreed it would have been better for Mexico had the matter been arranged by a loan, which would have avoided default in international obligations and preserved the country's international credit, which could have been used later if necessary arose, and it would also have affected the quotations of Mexican securities held by French, British and American investors, mainly French. The British came second and Americans hold only 20 per cent of Mexican securities.

Summarizing the situation, the Ambassador said it is now a question solely of whether Mexico can balance her budget and leave the oil export taxes, plus 10 per cent of the receipts of the national railways, to meet interest payments.

Regarding the general mixed claims commission shortly to be in session at Mexico City, the Ambassador expressed gratification that Mexico had appointed men of such prominence, known ability and high reputation as Aguirre Alaraz and Fernandez Gomez. Regarding the conference on electrical communications sitting here, Ambassador Warren said his absence at Cleveland had prevented him from following the proceedings personally, but that the deliberations are likely to terminate at an early date. The conference are empowered only to recommend their views to the Pan-American Council, which body must transfer them to the respective governments for adoption.

Ambassador Warren had advised officially the Mexican Foreign Office of the request for the British government that the American Embassy "use its good offices" for British interests. Mexico has not replied.

TRAVEL TO MT. RAINIER PARK SHOWS INCREASE

(REUTERS DISPATCH)
TACOMA (Wash.), July 6.—A travel increase of 51 per cent for the first six months of 1924 over the same period for 1923 puts Mt. Rainier National Park in the front rank of national playgrounds.

During the first half of 1924, 32,973 persons and 8401 cars entered the park as compared with 18,744 persons and 3526 cars for the previous year, making an 81 per cent increase in people and 81 per cent increase in cars.

There was a 78 per cent increase in visitors for the month of June, 1924, over June, 1923. More than 16,000 persons entered the park in June of this year as compared with 8924 people last year. There was a 66 per cent increase in cars; 2271 coming in last year as compared with 1368 this year.

Fortune of Chan Ho of Sacramento Revealed by Probate Court

BY A. P. WHITE WIRE
SACRAMENTO, July 6.—Chan Ho, Sacramento-born Chinese, who died here Friday, left an estate valued at close to a million dollars. It was disclosed when petition for probate of his will was filed in Superior Court.

All the property, consisting of cash in bank, real estate in Sacramento and in the delta section, promissory notes and farm implements, is community property and, under the State law, half the estate goes to the widow, Mrs. Tong See. Two sons in this city also are named in the will.

GULLS PREY UPON NESTS OF PELICANS
Nature Solves Problem of Fish Destruction by Age-Old Method

(REUTERS DISPATCH)
RENO (Nev.), July 6.—Sent by the government to investigate the reported destruction of vast quantities of fish in Pyramid Lake by pelicans, E. Raymond Hall, Federal biologist, reports nature is solving the problem by her age-old methods. "Fast flocks of sea gulls are preying on the eggs of the pelicans and destroyed about 9000 within a few days."

Hall says the fierce sea gulls swoop down on the pelicans' nests and gorge on the eggs while the parents are hunting food. The pelicans are said by Indians and sportsmen to eat six pounds of fish daily per bird, and fully 10,000 are estimated to have their homes on the lake. Thousands of sea gulls use the lake for breeding grounds and the birds are constantly warning up each other, according to Indians and Federal agents.

American Tourist Writes He Fails to Run Across Any "Starving Children"

(REUTERS DISPATCH)
ST. LOUIS, July 6.—In a letter to friends here George E. Dieckman, vice-president of the St. Louis Zoological Board of Control who is visiting in Germany, asserts the raising of money in America for "starving German children" is absurd.

"Germany is not starving by any means," says Dieckman, "and I have failed to run across any of the starving children I heard so much about in America. Wages are low and this makes matters hard for large families, the same as in other countries. The war has made many Germans rich, in fact thousands of them. They are traveling, and I am told, spending their money lavishly."

"Raising money in America seems absurd with these wealthy Germans traveling about. Prices at theaters are high, yet the Germans pack the houses. Why this, if their children are starving? And why should Americans aid under these conditions? All the fields are cultivated and growing crops look good."

INDIANAPOLIS, July 6.—While William McCrary of Seymour, Ind., was walking in the business district there yesterday afternoon a stranger, whose attention was directed across the street, jostled against him.

The usual apologies were made and the men engaged in conversation during which the stranger said he was trying to find his twin brother. McCrary told the stranger he had lived here all his life and might be able to assist him.

"William McCrary is the man I'm looking for," said the stranger. "Years ago they called him 'Mac' for short." McCrary looked at the stranger intently for a few moments.

"Well, Joe, I guess I'm the man you are looking for," he said.

The two had not seen each other for thirty-five years when Joseph left Seymour. They had failed to recognize each other at their chance meeting.

William McCrary has been employed as a machinist in a local factory for more than forty years. Joseph has traveled extensively since he left Seymour and said his home was "nowhere in particular."

Long Drawn Out Democratic Convention Hurts Business in Federal Offices

(REUTERS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, July 6.—Government officials today had about reached the limit of endurance as a result of a demoralization of office work brought about by the protracted sessions of the Democratic National Convention. Radio loud speakers which have been in service constantly in every government building in Washington are responsible.

High officials and humble employees alike have listened in to such an extent as to interfere seriously with transaction of public business.

The White House has set the precedent by having a radio in the executive offices. There has been a radio in the outer office of the Secretary of State. Two members of the Federal Reserve Board have had loud speakers which could be heard in the corridors of the Treasury Building. The chairman of the Tariff Commission and many other government officials similarly have kept tab on the proceedings.

The Refrigerator—a Necessity To Successful Summer Meals

Out of the cool recesses of the refrigerator come the most tempting, the most wholesome and the most refreshing parts of the summer's meals.

A good refrigerator is a vital necessity in summer, when it is the only means by which one may hope to keep food fresh and edible. Considered as an all-year-round factor in conserving food, it soon pays for itself.

125 styles and sizes of refrigerators to choose from—at Barker Bros.—Prices from $17.75 to $830.

From such an assortment, and such a variance of prices, surely every refrigerator need can be met, no matter what the requirements of the home or the limitations of the purse!

Conspicuous among our various makes of refrigerators are:

The Seeger
The Seeger Refrigerator siphons the cold dry air into all nooks and corners, making conditions perfect for the preservation of food. The insulation of pure cork, which is a feature of all Seegers, insures the saving of ice as well as the saving of food.

Leonard Cleanable
Ten walls of good materials insulate the Leonard. The inside of the Leonard is "Like a Clean China Dish," being made in one piece, with a triple coat of hard white porcelain, seamless and jointless, with rounded, easy-to-clean corners.

Liberal Allowance for Your Old Refrigerator Will Be Made Toward a New One—Liberal Credit Terms

The 1900 Cataract Washer
—simplifies the laundry problem in the most efficient, satisfactory manner possible. With its help, the week's wash may be dispatched in an hour or two—leaving the remainder of the day for more pleasant occupations.

Kelvinator Refrigeration eliminates all the makeshift inefficiencies of ice refrigeration by maintaining a constant dry cold air 11 degrees lower than a cake of ice.

Kelvinator an Economy
By keeping the air several degrees below the decay point of food, it is possible to keep supplies much longer with Kelvinator refrigeration than otherwise. The important saving from Kelvinator's prevention of food waste alone justifies its initial cost. There are no bills for constantly melting ice, no having to depend upon "the ice man." You know how much you have been spending for ice each week. This saving is obvious. When you install a Kelvinator you can do so with the comfortable assurance that it will serve you well and pay for itself over and over again throughout its long life.

Kelvinator Is Automatic
Once you install a Kelvinator in your refrigerator, your refrigeration troubles are over. It is absolutely reliable, "on the job" the year around. It is well built, guaranteed to give satisfaction, and it fits into any refrigerator.

Your Most Delicate Fabrics Safe in the "1900"
The "1900" cleanses by oscillation, having a double water-action claimed by no other washer. The absence of hazardous devices inside the tub insures the safe washing of even the most delicate articles.

Your Old Machine Will Help to Pay for a New One
If you have an old washer that has outlived its days of satisfactory usefulness to you, let Barker Bros. make you a liberal allowance for it toward the purchase price of a "1900" Cataract.

$10 —An Initial Payment Puts a "1900" Washer or Ironer in your home

Kelvinator is finely engineered, and finely built, by the oldest company in the field. Guaranteed to give you complete satisfaction.

MITOLA BREAKS RECORD IN 10,000-METER RUN

Land Draws First Blood in Bid for Olympic Honors; Fourteen American Athletes Qualify

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
COLOMBES STADIUM, July 6.—Racing over a muddy track, a world's record and athletic glory that will go down as the greatest of all times, Willie Mitola, sturdy, lean, Finnish product of America's running school, today won the opening competition of the 1924 Olympic track championships to a climax with a sensational triumph in the 10,000-meter run.

A wildly cheering throng of spectators, many of whom had been deluged by rain a few minutes before, crowded the stands to witness the start toward the crown in what now seemed to be a battle with fate.

Instantaneous victory gave Mitola a lead in the first round of the 10,000-meter run, as he swept in the first place, leaving the other competitors in a lather.

Other event winners were: the veteran American, successfully defending his title by winning the 100-meter dash, and the American, who won the 200-meter dash, and the American, who won the 400-meter dash.

WIDE LEAD
Mitola, who had been in the lead since the start, took a wide lead in the 10,000-meter run, and three other runners followed him. Mitola covered the mile in 12:1.8, beating the world record of 12:1.6, set by the late John H. Van den Bergh, in 1911.

At the end of the race, Mitola was leading by 110 yards, with the second runner, a Swede, 100 yards behind him. The third runner, a Finn, was 150 yards behind, and the fourth runner, a Swede, was 200 yards behind.

WIDE SETS PACE
Mitola, who had been in the lead since the start, took a wide lead in the 10,000-meter run, and three other runners followed him. Mitola covered the mile in 12:1.8, beating the world record of 12:1.6, set by the late John H. Van den Bergh, in 1911.

At the end of the race, Mitola was leading by 110 yards, with the second runner, a Swede, 100 yards behind him. The third runner, a Finn, was 150 yards behind, and the fourth runner, a Swede, was 200 yards behind.

SHOW MOUTH SPEED
Showing remarkable consistency, Mitola was timed at the 5000-meter mark, the half-way post, in 15 minutes and 1.8 seconds, and then covered the remaining 5000 meters in only 23 seconds slower.

The American sprinting ace, Paddock, Murchison, Bowman and Scholz, flashed brilliant speed in two sets of the 100-meter trials, each of them winning two races handily. But they will face a formidable rival in tomorrow's decisive tests in Harold Abrahams, the Cambridge University star, who hugged up the fastest time of any of the competitors today when he won the fourth heat of the second round, in 19.5-5.6, equalling the Olympic record set by Don Lipplisot, United States, at the Stockholm games, in 1912.

VERNON AND SACRAMENTO BREAK EVEN IN TWIN BILL

THEY QUALIFIED IN THE OLYMPICS

The young gentleman presenting his manly chest to the tape is none other than Charles Paddock of Los Angeles, who got a good laugh on the "I-told-you-so's" when he won his heat of the 100-meter dash in the semifinals of the Olympic games at Paris yesterday. Bill Richardson, demon Stanford half-miler, who occupies the other half of the picture, also placed in his event, the 800-meter preliminaries.

HOW THEY FINISHED IN FIRST DAYS' EVENTS OF OLYMPIC GAMES ABROAD

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
COLOMBES STADIUM (France) July 6.—Following are the results of the preliminary heats of the Olympic games:

400 METERS HURDLES

Second heat, won by C. F. Coulter, Iowa, 1:1.8. Second, Time, 55.4. Coulter, second, Time, 55.4.

Third heat, won by Andre, France; Forsen, Denmark, second, Time, 55.4. Andre, third, Time, 55.4.

Fourth heat, won by V. France; Kukula, Finland, second, Time, 55.4. V. France, third, Time, 55.4.

Fifth heat, won by G. Taylor, Grinnell College; Blackett, Great Britain, second, Time, 55.4. Taylor, third, Time, 55.4.

The Americans thus took first place in the four heats in which they were represented. Two men qualified for second eliminating trials.

100 METERS DASH, SEVENTEEN HEATS
First heat, won by Loren Murchison, Newark, N. J., 10.4-5.6. Second, Time, 10.4-5.6.

Second heat, won by C. Paddock, Los Angeles, 10.4-5.6. Third, Time, 11.1. Paddock, second, Time, 11.1.

Eleventh heat, won by Chester Bowman, Syracuse University, 10.4-5.6. Thirteenth heat, won by Jackson V. Scholz, New York A. C. Time, 10.4-5.6.

In the second series of trials for the 100 meters there were six heats, two qualifying for the semifinals. Murchison led

TILDEN IS VICTORIOUS IN TOURNEY

Tennis Champ Adds Another Title to List by Winning at Indianapolis

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
INDIANAPOLIS, July 6.—William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, national tennis champion, added another title to his ever-growing list here today when he defeated John Hennessey, Indianapolis, in the finals of the western tennis championship. The scores were 6-3, 6-1, 6-2.

Hennessey, who proved the sensation of the tournament by eliminating B. I. C. Norton of South Africa and Gerald Patterson of Australia on successive days, was completely submerged by Tilden's superb game today.

Australian Davis Cup team won the doubles title by defeating Hennessey and Chapin in a hard-fought match. The scores were 7-5, 6-4. The Australians got away to a slow start but won five straight games to take the first set and maintained their advantage from this time on. The smashing overhead play of Patterson featured.

Miss Marion Leighton of Chicago won the women's singles championship by defeating Mrs. Leo Alter, also of Chicago, 6-2, 6-4.

The women's doubles title was won by Mrs. Alter and Miss Leighton, who defeated Mrs. Riese of Saginaw, Mich., and Mrs. A. J. Stewart, Chicago, by 6-0, 6-1 scores.

Leo Kurrook of Indianapolis won the junior title by defeating Thomas McGilvray, Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-4.

Walter Thomas of East Orange, N. J., won the boys' title, defeating Philip Pike, Bloomington, Ind., 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

The majority of the stars competing here left tonight for St. Louis, where they will take part in the national clay court championships.

VON ELM GETS LOW GROSS CUP

Score of 75 in City Tourney Remains the Best

First Round of Match Play on This Week

Gossip Gathered From the Country Clubs

BY CHARLES WEST
No energetic golfer being able to undermine the score of 75 which George Von Elm hung up Saturday in the medal round of the Los Angeles City championship golf tournament at Griffith Park, the blonde Rancho player was awarded the low gross cup. Von Elm led by four strokes the 206 who competed in the qualifying round over the three days of medal play Friday, Saturday and yesterday.

This large entry list, exceeding by 100 the number who entered last season—was ably handled by the tournament committee at the municipal links, who not only served up the handicaps, but took charge of scoring and made the drawings unaided.

STARTS TODAY
Match play opens this week, when first-round matches must be played. The draw finds Johnny Mesal, defending champion, in the upper bracket with Harold Thompson, Fuller Thompson, and Earl Neitzel as his most dangerous competitors, while Von Elm in the lower half has the easiest half of the draw. Naturally, the former Southern California champion is a heavy favorite to emerge on top.

Low net honors were captured by F. R. Ordune, who scored 87-18-69. Pairings for the first-round matches will be found on page 11 of this section. Competitors may get in touch with their opponents through Emil Roussier at the clubhouse.

Jack Kemp is the new champion of the Hollywood Country Club, following his splendid victory yesterday over Stanley Hughes in the thirty-six-hole final round, and 1. Kemp scored 77-79-156 for the two rounds, being one up at the turn, while Stanley's cards were 78-80-158.

Harold Thompson and Jack Tarrant played a round in a foursome at Hollywood yesterday. Thompson reversing the decision of last week when Tarrant defeated him at California by winning 2 up. He had a 73 and Tarrant a 76.

Other results in the club championship: C. A. Herbert, 3 and 2; third flight, W. G. Laubender defeated Tom Haley, 3 and 2; fourth flight, E. C. Parsons defeated E. W. Reid, 1 up; fifth flight, K. Slesho defeated C. L. Parsons, 1 up; sixth flight, C. E. Pettie defeated G. R. Dexter, 3 and 2; seventh flight, Tom Stewart defeated S. W. Slingsland, 2 and 1.

PASADENA
R. P. Phillips won yesterday's sweepstakes at the Pasadena Golf Club, leading W. H. Harwood by 5 strokes with a net 63. In the first flight of the directors' tournament Dr. F. W. Hodgdon defeated Roy Campbell on the nineteenth green.

FLINTRIDGE
The semi-monthly sweepstakes of the Southern California Professional Golfers' Association will be held today on the links of the Flintridge Country Club. The pros will tee off at 1 p. m. In addition to the low gross purse, prizes will also be up for competition in blind golf. The Martin family has had a strange hold on the honors for the last six weeks, Tuff having won twice and Ernest once.

ANNANDALE
Jack Malley and Cliff Shaw, professional and caddy master, respectively, at Annandale, won from J. D. Johnston and William Kamens in a foursome yesterday, 3 and 2. In spite of this, Johnston had the best medal score, turning in a 76.

BRENTWOOD
J. T. Reid and J. A. Riordan tied for first place in Brentwood's sweepstakes yesterday, each finishing 3 down to par. M. A. Leach and C. E. Pettie were deadlocked for second honors, each being 6 down at the end of the battle.

AMERICAN POLOISTS DEFEATED

Argentine Four Victorious by 6-to-5 Score in Fierce Duel at St. Cloud

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
ST. CLOUD (France) July 6.—Argentina today emerged victorious from a terrific duel with the United States for supremacy in the world's polo, winning from the North American team by the narrow score of 6 to 5.

In a heart-breaking finish, with the score tied, 5 and 5, one minute from the final bell, Jack Nelson, the Argentine star, brought the spectators to their feet, cheering and applauding wildly by scoring the goal which meant victory for South America.

If the United States had won today, they would have clinched the Olympic championship, having won all four of their previous matches. The Argentine, however, still have to defeat both France and Great Britain before attaining the championship.

That the South American team will win is regarded as almost certain, the Yankee quartet being the only serious contender.

Tommy Hitchcock, playing No. 2 for the United States, was injured during the fifth chukkur by being struck in the groin with a mallet. He fell from his horse and was out several minutes while doctors worked on him. After lying prone on the grass for awhile he got up and insisted on resuming play.

The battle today was bitterly fought throughout and, until the injury to Hitchcock, it appeared as if the match might run into extra periods. The line-up:

Crane Company Wins Commercial League

CRANE OUTFIT GRABS TITLE

Wins Spalding Trophy After Trimming Hobbs Battery

Commercial League Champs in 14-to-3 Victory

Duncan Holds Battery Squad to Three Hits

By defeating the Hobbs Battery nine, 14 to 3, the Crane Company outfit, managed by Gus Gustafson, won the Commercial League championship and the Spalding trophy. The game was played Saturday.

Both teams scored twice in the first inning, but the Crane hope-holders pushed over five runs in the third and from then on the title was never in doubt.

Duncan pitched for the victors and held the battery men to three scattered hits, while Crane collected nineteen safeties during the contest. Hopper hit a home run with two men on. The fast holding of Lopez, Scott and Smith featured the struggle. Score:

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs" consisting of the funniest jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $1, $5, and $10, and a list of theaters showing the film, together with rules for submitting jokes are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winning jokes and names of authors are printed daily on the coupon. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgment.

NEW PRODUCERS FOR SIGNAL HILL

Two Good Completions on Independence Day

Combined Daily Production is 2000 Barrels

Revival of Development is Noted in Field

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, July 6.—Promises of a decided revival of all development in the Signal Hill field is seen here as the result of the bringing in on the 4th inst. of two new wells. Two other wells are bailing for production and four others are preparing for completion.

The two new wells added close to 2000 barrels of new daily production to the field's output. The next week or ten days should add at least another 2000 barrels of new production to the field's daily output. The Shell Company's Alamosa No. 15, on the west side of Obispo avenue, near Hill street, was the first of the two wells to celebrate Independence Day by going on production. The well was completed at the 4900-foot level and showed an initial flow of 1500 barrels.

The Petroleum Midway Company was the other organization to add a producer here on June 23, by bringing in Field No. 12, a 450-barrel well from the 4438-foot level. The well is equipped with two and one-half inch tubing down to the 4620-foot level.

The Shell company is preparing Shuman No. 3 for production. The well was drilled to 4560 feet and a total of 4217 feet of two and one-half inch tubing was used.

Two wells on city-owned water lands are being prepared for bringing in by the A. T. Jergins Trust. They are the Jergins City No. 10, drilled to 4800 feet and now bailing for production, and Jergins City No. 3, now bailing for production from the 4390-foot level.

The United Oil Company's Doni No. 1 has been drilled to 5000 feet and will stop drilling within the next fifty feet. It is said at the field office. Preparations for the completion of this well will be started tomorrow. The well is located in the Dome area, just east of the field and is a redrill job, having been on production in the early boom days of the field's history.

The Henderson Petroleum Company's Malloy No. 1, has been delayed in completion because of stuck tubing. The A. T. Jergins Trust yesterday announced three new operations in the local field. Derrick for Jergins City No. 16, on the north side of Sunnyside cemetery, has been started. The well is to be an offset to the Petroleum Midway's Gray lease. Jergins City No. 14 is building derrick and will be an offset to the Midway's field lease. Jergins City No. 15 is a location on the same tract with No. 16.

BUSY AT POSO CREEK

New Tests Planned; Showings Are Held Encouraging

BAKERSFIELD, July 6.—More development is indicated for the district north of Poso Creek which is being tested for oil by T. A. Piper and the Sandberg Petroleum Company. Materials are being hauled for a rig on Sec. 28, 27-28, to be drilled under a government permit.

Vedder Brothers, local oil operators, are interested in the project. Another test well is to be drilled on Sec. 22, 27-28. The rig soon will be in place.

Well No. 4, a Sandberg concern, according to reports, has reached an encouraging showing on Sec. 15, 27-28, live oil and gas having been found, it is asserted. Piper wells No. 1 and No. 2 on Sec. 15, 27-28, also are showing a slight showing of oil, field reports say.

NEW KERN RIVER TEST

Area on West Side Near Limits of Bakersfield Lease

BUTTONWILLOW, July 6.—The Mendocino Oil Company, which recently abandoned its test well in this district, after failing to produce gas or oil from a depth of 3300 feet, now plans to drill on the west side of the Kern River, adjacent to the Bakersfield city limits.

Lands belonging to A. H. Swain, Knowles Bros. and other residents have been leased, and attention is expected to commence in the near future. The structure is thought to be a continuation of the formation in the Rio Bravo district, where extensive leasing recently has been under way.

DOHENY AT TORRANCE

Petroleum Securities Take Over Three Kleinmeyer Leases

The Petroleum Securities Company, controlled by members of the Doheny family, has taken over the three Kleinmeyer leases of the Pan-American Petroleum Company in the eastern part of the Torrance field.

Twelve line wells will be drilled on the leases at once. The operations, marked by considerable push in the eastern extension, show development of acreage in a solid line along Redondo road from the Chandler-Candido Midway Oil Company's Del Amo No. 13, western outpost, to Consolidated Mutual's Oakley No. 1, a stretch of more than three miles.

SAN JUAN BASIN ACTIVE

Various Operators Report Rigs Being Placed; Signs of Production Also Are Noted

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FARMINGTON (N. M.), July 6.—The H. L. Williams interests, which lately incorporated in California as the Metropolitan Oil Corporation of Los Angeles, have just unloaded three standard rigs here. One will be used near Bayfield, Colo., one south of Aztec, N. M., close by the Hubbell producing well near Bloomfield, and one on the Pipe Rock Oil Company acreage, two miles east of Farmington.

Three more standard rigs are said to be en route. The company is reported to have brought in production in the Pepee River field in Canada.

Well No. 3 of the Williams interests, known locally as the Twin Buttes well, which is about five miles northwest of Farmington, is now running casing and the gas flow is so strong that it can be seen several feet above the casing.

The boilers have been moved back and every precaution is being taken to prevent accidents. Wells No. 1 and No. 2 are shut down, the former waiting for an under-reamer and the latter for pipe. Well No. 4 is drilling at a depth of about 600 feet.

The Munoz interests, which have been operating on the Rattlesnake structure under the corporate name of the Santa Fe Company, will make a test of the beautiful Mountain structure, operating under the corporate name of the Navajo Company.

The standard rig used on the Rattlesnake structure is being moved to beautiful Mountain and will be put to drilling there just as soon as it can be gotten in shape for work.

The Coal Creek Oil Company, which is composed of Detroit and Santa Fe capitalists, whose president is W. H. Graham, moved its rig out to section 31, township 26 north and range 13 west the other day and will start its first well on the four sections, it holds there.

The well is being drilled by Frank P. Strickland, manager of the New Mexico Eagle Oil Company, came from his home at Sapulpa, Okla., a few days ago and with his field manager left for the well, which has just been spudded in on their acreage about twelve miles south-east of Farmington.

The well is located on the north-east quarter of section 22, in township 28 north and range 11 west. The company has been planning for some time to start a drilling campaign in this county and is now ready to go.

AGAIN DRILLING

The Farmington Petroleum Company, which is drilling about four miles north of Farmington, has overcome difficulties in the hole and is again drilling at a depth of 950 feet with a six-inch hole.

The Bluff Company, drilling on Coal Creek, has encountered a gas and is much encouraged with the showing in the No. 2 well. R. P. Boyer and Company of Los Angeles, holding some acreage in this field, has a man on the ground to select a drilling site.

Chronon well No. 1 is drilling in a dark shale and it is believed it will take two weeks more to reach production.

Dr. John K. Knox was here several days to make a report on Tract C on the Ute Reservation. A Tucson concern, represented by Miles A. Carpenter, is driving a 22-inch hole to cut an arsenical ore deposit.

Two groups of silver-lead claims in the Tucson district have been sold by Gus W. Honk and W. S. Cummings of Orange, Cal., and Edgar Hittell of Ramona, Cal. The purchaser is a syndicate of St. Louis capitalists, who have been represented by a year or more by Missouri and M. Schwartz of St. Louis.

The Pacific Petroleum Corporation redrilled its No. 9 to 4300 feet. The six and one-quarter-inch hole was landed and cemented at 3161 feet and a liner was set which is sixty feet long, forty feet of it being perforated. The well was bailed and it started with a flow of 194 barrels of 20 degree gravity oil, entirely free from water. This well is located on the north side of Quincy street at the intersection of Delaware street. Production here has fallen off 652 barrels per day.

There are no new rigs in the field. There was another fire last week. One rig burned down and two more were damaged. They belonged to the Associated Oil Company.

FULKERSON WILL SHIP
Well No. 2 at Newport Beach to Be Put on Production Today

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEWPORT BEACH, July 6.—With the erection of storage tanks and the completion of a side track, shipment of oil from the Fulkerson well, averaging a car a day, will commence tomorrow. According to an announcement by W. J. Fulkerson, the No. 2 well will be put on production today.

The Gilmore Oil Company has taken the output for a long period of time. Mr. Fulkerson says. The derrick for well No. 4 will be completed today and installation of machinery will begin once the well is close to the No. 2 well. Work on the No. 5 will start the first of next week. The road has been completed and the pipe and other material are all ready on the ground.

By An Old Scout

Mrs. A. B. Williams, who has been making her home in Los Angeles for some months, has lately been at Casper, Wyo., and Omaha, Neb., where she has considerable stock interests in the E. T. Williams Oil Company operating the Salt Creek field Wyoming, and Omaha. The Omaha plant runs on Salt Creek crude produced by the E. T. Williams Oil Company and run to loading-racks at Casper through the Central Pipe Line Company, controlled by the stockholders of the producing and refining corporations. Mrs. Williams was a Casper when it was a mere village and before Wyoming became an important producer of petroleum. She had vision and determination enough to acquire and hold leases that now afford her a comfortable income. She has become a practical operator, her experience and advice having some influence in the management of the three affiliated corporations.

"Rod" Burnham, head of the land department of the Union Oil Company of California, came back to this city the other day after a tour of inspection in New Mexico. He went to Colorado when the Union's big gas well blew in near Wellington and after it was shut in its importance seemed to warrant further exploration. In Colorado and New Mexico, Burnham, who has already been extensively interested in Wyoming for five or six years, has a big job ahead of him to keep in intimate touch with that vast territory, much of which is rather difficult of approach, but he seems to like the work. He has been drilling operations carried on in recent years, hundreds of persons, thrilled by the hope of riches, have obtained land under oil and gas permits and are patiently awaiting reports from drilling operations. According to Burnham, Smith, honest and conscientious effort to ascertain the value of the land in the production of oil is being made by a co-operative organization that is putting down the Victor Valley Community well, twelve miles west of Victor, Colo. The operators of this project, he says, are using a rotary and standard combined rig with which they plan to drill, if necessary, to a depth of 5000 feet. At present, they are down 1500 feet.

The Mojave Basin Oil Company is operating a rotary rig near a spot where drilling has been done intermittently during the last twenty years on the Kramer tract. The rig is being used to test the company's oil well, according to reports received at the Land Office. It has been asserted by prospectors that oil has been found in that section. Reports of government field agents hold little hope of commercial production.

The Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company (50 per cent Standard of Indiana) effective July 1, is purchasing only 60 per cent of the production of wells connected to its pipe lines in Oklahoma, Kansas, North-Central Texas, but, if so requested by the owner, will purchase the other 40 per cent of its storage tanks and charge a reasonable storage price. The Sinclair corporation is operating 30,000,000 barrels of crude oil in storage in Oklahoma, Kansas and Central Texas besides what it holds in Wyoming and other places. Other major purchasers of crude oil in Midcontinent territory are also interested in the Sinclair oil.

The Standard of New Jersey announces that, while stocks of gasoline are not particularly unsteady, there is on hand enough to last comfortably for 105 days. This will give the Standard a comfortable margin of 15, which ordinarily ends the so-called summer peak of automobile consumption. August is the big gasoline-consuming month, and the Standard is almost there, with a notable underconsumption for the year to date.

Arthur Knapp, Philadelphia, graduate of a "Tech" and engineering school, has drilled oil and gas wells and dry holes in Louisiana, Indiana, Russia, Trinidad Island and elsewhere for a year or more in California. Arthur is quite a technical fellow, even keeping all his books in curves, no words or figures, and he has a peculiar sense of humor. He is a very practical fellow, and he is a very practical fellow, and he is a very practical fellow.

Employees' Congress
BISBEE (Ariz.) July 6.—The employees of the Copper Queen Corporation have their own congress in which are considered many matters affecting their work and relations with their employer.

PACIFIC COAST JOINT STOCK LAND BANKS FIVE PER CENT BONDS

Issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act

Dated March, 1924. Due March 1, 1954. Redeemable at par and accrued interest on any interest date after ten years from date of issue. Coupon bonds fully negotiable and interchangeable. Denomination $1000. Principal and semi-annual interest (March 1 and September 1) payable in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, New York or Chicago.

Legal Investment for Savings Banks in California
Acceptable as Security for Postal Savings and Other Deposits of Government Funds

These bonds are obligations of the following banks:

Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank of Los Angeles, operating in California and Arizona. J. F. Sartori, President; also President of the Security Trust & Savings Bank, Los Angeles.

Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank of San Francisco, operating in California and Nevada. John S. Drums, President; also President of the Mercantile Trust Company of California, San Francisco.

Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank of Salt Lake City, operating in Utah and Idaho. Heber J. Grant, President; also President of the Utah State National Bank of Salt Lake City.

These banks are owned or controlled by the stockholders of the following Pacific Coast Banks and Trust Companies:

Security Trust & Savings Bank, Los Angeles

The First National Bank, Los Angeles

Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank, Los Angeles

The First National Bank, Portland, Ore.

Mercantile Trust Company of California, San Francisco

Walker Bros., Bankers, Salt Lake City

The National Copper Bank, Salt Lake City

The Utah State National Bank, Salt Lake City

Deseret National Bank, Salt Lake City

These bonds are secured by either first mortgages on farm lands or United States Government bonds or Certificates of Indebtedness deposited as collateral. The liability of the banks' stockholders is double the amount of their stock.

The officers of the Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Banks are among the most prominent and successful bankers on the Pacific Slope. In addition to being thoroughly familiar with land values they are also in close touch with the general financial and business activities of this large and important section of the country and they are giving these banks the benefit of their years of experience.

The Act under which these bonds are issued provides that: "Farm Loan Bonds *** shall be deemed and held to be instrumentalities of the Government of the United States, and as such they and the income derived therefrom shall be exempt from Federal, State, Municipal and local taxation." By a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, rendered February 28, 1921, the constitutionality of this Act and the tax exemption feature of these bonds were fully sustained.

The security for the bonds is constantly increasing by reason of the partial payments that are being made upon the loans securing them, which partial payments do not release any of the original security. The percentage of loan to appraised value of land is constantly decreasing by reason of such payments.

GOHRING TO GUIDE WORK AT JEROME

Shaft Sunk and Crosscut Run to Contact at Verde Property in Arizona

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
JEROME (Ariz.) July 6.—W. B. Gohring, secretary of the Arizona Chapter of the American Mining Congress and former mine superintendent in the Warren district for the Calumet & Arizona Mining Company, is to be placed in charge of the Verde Jerome property, a 150-foot shaft already has been sunk and a crosscut run to the contact. These workings are to be continued downward.

Speculated with chalcocite, there already has been found the same black schist that carries copper values in the Verde Central and United Verde. The mine is on the Red Warrior fault, which runs from the big pit of the United Verde, and appears to have no connection with the Verde fault, which is a parallel fault. Financing of the Verde Jerome has been undertaken by a St. Louis firm of brokers, which now is in control.

In sinking the new Verde Central shaft below the 1900 level, there has been cut what appears to be an entirely new body of chalcocite, in schist, coming from the west.

NOGALES WILL DRILL
Arizona Company to Sink Second Well on Lease Near Elgin

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NOGALES (Ariz.) July 6.—Capt. L. W. Mix, president of the Nogales Oil and Gas Company, states that a contract will be awarded this month for sinking a second well on the company's holdings near Elgin.

The first hole was abandoned at 1157 feet, after the drillers lost their tools. It is asserted that the log of this well showed encouraging geological conditions.

STANDARD PLANS TO BUILD FOUR TANKS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BAKERSFIELD, July 6.—The Standard Oil Company is preparing to start work on four new 80,000-barrel storage tanks in the Kern River field, which will be erected at a cost of $250,000. Besides these new tanks the company will repair all its old tanks located in the fields just north of Bakersfield.

Wildcatters to Drill New Area Along Red River

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WAUKICA (Okla.) July 6.—Discoveries of oil along Red River on the Oklahoma side, altogether in comparatively shallow sands, are in a measure verifying theories of the new pool in the southern part of Jefferson county. It accounts for oil concerns furnishing enough money to drill a test started by L. W. Tarkenton of Dallas on the Major ranch between the new pool and the Red River. A few miles southeast of Waukica, Tarkenton has moved his headquarters to Waukica and is contemplating "playing" the river territory across Jefferson county.

E. J. Miley to Drill Again in Anaheim Field

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ANAHEIM, July 6.—E. J. Miley has no intention of abandoning his operations in the Anaheim district, he reported yesterday. The Miley-Anaheim No. 1, which was drilled to about 3600 feet, is to be abandoned, but the rig will be skidded and a second hole drilled a few feet from the first one, according to Mr. Miley.

The Miley-Anaheim was forced to abandon at 1300 feet because of bad casing, and was past 3000 feet, and almost in striking distance of the original depth, when further mechanical trouble was encountered and it was deemed advisable to start a new hole. Mr. Miley holds 500 acres in the vicinity, and is understood to have an option on 600 acres more, in the event the well is successful.

WORK PIONEER MINE
F. J. Sparkes Finances Old Bodie Gold-Silver-Lead Property

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PRESCOTT (Ariz.) July 6.—T. J. Sparkes has announced the financing of the Bodie mining property, twenty-three miles south of Prescott, a gold-silver-lead mine that was worked in pioneer days, but which has been dormant for fifty years.

Rehabilitation and development will be under charge of Sam Fields, former superintendent of the Ray-Haroules Copper Mine at Ray.

MINING The U. S. Bureau of Mines has completed a comprehensive study of the mining industry in the United States, and has issued a report on the results. The report, which is the first of a series, is expected to be published in the near future. The study was conducted by a team of experts, and the results are expected to be of great value to the mining industry. The report covers a wide range of topics, including the history of mining in the United States, the current state of the industry, and the future prospects. The report also includes a detailed analysis of the mining industry's contribution to the national economy, and a discussion of the various problems facing the industry. The report is expected to be a valuable resource for anyone interested in the mining industry.

PASTOR SAYS FOUR EVILS ARE IMPERILING NATION

Klanism, Socialism, Wobblism and Lawlessness Denounced in Sermon Over Radio

Denouncing Klanism, Socialism, Wobblism and Lawlessness as the four great perils of the republic Rev. Henry Coe, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, speaking to the KHJ audience from the broadcasting station of the Times yesterday, declared that only through the adoption of the principal plank in Jesus's platform—"Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself"—can America hope to lead in that great future of which we dream.

Dr. Culbertson spoke, in part, as follows: "Love, thy God, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." "The streams of human tendency affect all individuals in the church, and the influence of the present-day freedom as enjoyed by individuals is the extreme to which it has gone in the scouring of law, the violation of age-old traditions and conventions and the excessive extravagances which mark the helter-skelter activity of the modern times. The masses of people are possessed of a false idea of freedom and the spirit which acorns limitations on personal action, waxes disconcertingly strong. Freedom of body came as slavery crumbled; freedom of mind arrived as external authority was curbed and freedom of spirit is the perplexing thing which our times are manifesting. The man who regards the rights and welfare of those about him contemptuously is the worst of slaves, in being self's slave. No man in all the world, particularly in the church, can be regarded as free, so long as he forgets the welfare of the other fellow. The freedom claimed in taking an illegal drink is one of the commonest counterfeits of our day; it was counterfeit when drinking was legal, though it went under the name of license then; but now, its real name is anarchy, and its danger is its usage by people of authority. Intelligence and position: they are placing potential dynamite on the destruction of government. Devotion to the common good is the test of sanity, for folk who lack it are scheduled either for the asylum, or prison."

LARGER ASPECT
There is also a larger aspect to the truth. Even as Coe declared a new continent of science and invention was being won by law, the laws and forces of nature are at work. The new world is good will and instead of poison gas Europe has fallen from the west leadership because of the divide her peoples. To lead in that world is to be better understanding of the relationship with all.

YOUNG PEOPLE GIVEN ADVICE BY MINISTER
In an annual sermon addressed to the young people of his congregation at the South Park Christian Church, Dr. Bruce Brown pointed out the "Essential Elements of Success" by showing the seven things that make life great. These, he said, were culture, conviction, courage, concentration, conscience, conduct and character; and without them a man is a house without windows. Continuing, Dr. Brown said:

"There is a very general impression that a lack of conviction on the part of any person is an evidence of broadmindedness while the facts are that it is evidence of the lack of sense. All the great characters who have made and molded history have been unflinching to their tasks by an unflinching and unwavering assurance of the rightness of certain conclusions. Without this we will never be more than derelicts without a captain's plot. The word culture comes from a root meaning to plow. When weeds have been turned under and good seed planted a desert or a life has been cultivated. Character means to cut or engrave. Our actions are the pens that dip themselves in our heart's blood to write life's story out and then the finished volume lies on time's shelves for the old world to read and talk about. Culture is to character what temper is to steel."

PASTOR PREACHES ON DEMOCRATS' MEETING
Rev. William C. Isett of Amanda Chapel, Carthage Center, talked on the religious plank in the Democratic platform and pointed out that it does not use the same words, but that the same bitterness and misunderstanding between two forms of religion and another is always evidence. "It is a remarkable and significant thing," he said, "that for several days national representatives from every State in the Union, called together for a purely political purpose of a national character, should vehemently debate a religious issue. While the debate was upon the question of naming the Ku Klux Klan in the platform of Democratic policies or not naming it, the issue itself being unclouded, and again, because it was necessary to do so, an article attached to the Constitution of the United States was singled out and incorporated into the platform. Moreover, every State will, this year, and perhaps for years to come, debate this question, and it will enter into families and divide them, and into cities and divide them."

"Clearly stated, the question is: Is America to be and remain a strictly Protestant country, or Jew and Catholics to be recognized as having a right to hold office? Is a man's religion to be a criterion of his political status? The Kingdom of God is at hand. It is not Protestant, nor Catholic nor Jewish. Two thousand years of history have been writing the record of human brotherhood. There is one God and Father of all. Amid all the notes of suspicion, or bitterness, and strife, Amanda Chapel must stand for religious freedom and love. The religious plank has been written into the platform of every political party seeking for the supremacy this fall. It concerns every citizen of the United States. It is bigger than the Ku Klux Klan and is neither settled nor postponed by omission or insertion. The only power to solve the breach is love."

EXCESS BAGGAGE
It is said that there were over 2000 sergeants-at-arms to guard and keep the 1000 delegates at the New York convention. This is an example of Tammany efficiency. It may be assumed that each official was a Smith boomer of lusty lung power. The New York candidate had command of the fireworks.

THIS MEANS GASTON
The prison yawns for Gaston Means, the breezy boss of the Congressional investigation. He has been fined $10,000 and sent to the Atlanta penitentiary for two years because of his conspiracies against the Eighteenth Amendment. If Gaston is a man of Means he will be $10,000 poorer before he gets through with Uncle Sam.

FLYING AUTOS
The fact that a young man arose one morning on Long Island and went to bed that night in San Francisco makes us understand how rapidly human genius is conquering the air. It seems to justify the prediction of E. V. Rickenbacker, the speed king, that in the next twenty years flying autos will be as thick as Ford's. He thinks future airplanes will have flapping wings. When the streets become filled with flapping wings Germany should be able to find a market for her discarded helmets.

HAVING SOME BANANAS
We are now getting bananas by the million from Honolulu and it is no wonder that a silly song has gone dead. The island fruits are fine and there is talk of having an open-faced tournament between the Hawaiian banana and the California prune. Anyhow, they have called a banana week to open July 14 to add lustre to a great feature of our Honolulu trade. During that particular week our morning meal is supposed to open with a shredded banana properly swathed in cream. It might be worse.

WHATS IN A NAME?
In former days railway locomotives were given names and a passenger might ride in the train of Ajax, Toronado or Gen. Grant. But the names grew confusing and the use of numbers for purposes of identification became general. Now at least one eastern system is going back to the use of names on its locomotives and is lettering the cabs with the names of some of the veteran engineers themselves. A reliable employee of the road who stays by for his generation will see his name memorized in the rolling stock before he passes on. Pullman cars have names, why not engines?

SOMETHING TO CHEW ON
Another invasion of Germany, America is doing the business. According to a couple of correspondents, the use of American gum has become quite the regular thing among the fashionable women of Berlin. It has been commended as easing the nerves as well as simplifying digestion. In the fashionable hotels and restaurants a package of American gum will cost a gold mark and a great many of the users emulate some of the girls on this side of the water. It is believed that the use of gum encourages the philosopher's view of life and permits one to bear his burdens with greater calmness and imperturbability.

MISTRUST DAN CUPID
The annual California crop of brides is becoming increasingly suspicious of the masculine sex, according to L. E. Rose, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. The State's statistician avers that the time is past when a lady took the fair words of a suitor at their face value, even though he might lay his heart, hand and bank book at her feet. Miss 1924 passed a note to the director or one of his assistants, requesting information as to her intended's standing in matrimonial matters.
During the last twelve months, according to the director, 10,000 records were filed with the bureau for searches of the records of vital statistics, with a view to learning if the gentlemen in the case had told the truth in regard to their being heartwhole and fancy free. For, if one has stepped up before the altar in California or before the divorce judge, a search of the records will reveal this interesting fact. That the precaution was a wise one in many cases is disclosed by Mr. Rose's information to the effect that in quite a number of cases the future bridegroom was shown to be on the verge of repeating, without having gone through the legal formality of having obtained an official severance of his marriage ties.

Some of the fair inquiries had been stung before, but most of them were young things that should have been more trusting. To the honor of the male sex, be it said, that few are the requests for searches of fair brides' records, this proving to the statistician's entire satisfaction that men as a whole are more trusting than their sisters. But, then, men do not get deceived so often as women. Members of the fair sex seldom commit matrimony. A divorce is such an easy thing for a woman with an appealing expression to get and it simplifies matters so much when it comes to collecting alimony. And it is so much harder for a woman to get away with anything than a man, since, despite suffrage, the sisters do not hang together as securely as do the men.

POLITICAL SHYLOCKS
Commenting on the deadlock in the Democratic convention and the fuss the delegates and the city were making about it, Heywood Brown said recently in his "It Seems to Me" column in the New York World: "My own life and the life of the man around the corner will go on pretty much the same whether the nomination goes to McAdoo, to Smith, to Davis, to Cox or to any one of the half-dozen others who have been mentioned. In any case there will be years of business depression and years of prosperity and sometimes the weather will be bad and always the taxes will be too high."

Considering what has taken place since the convention assembled, The Times is constrained to agree that this statement, in the main, is true, for there is only a very scant prospect that any of the men named will have anything to do with the executive department of the Federal government.

Never was a house more openly and unreconcilably divided against itself than Madison Square Garden has been during the last two weeks. To expect a house so divided to make a stand against an organization so unified as the Republican party at the present time would be to expect a howling dog to bay away the moon. It is not from such disorganization and discord that successful candidates emerge.

Surely the Democrats in convention assembled have done nothing to indicate that they have any fixed plan of constructive legislation to offer the country or that leaders have a wisdom superior to that of the men who are now at the head of the government. McAdoo and Smith have displayed a lust for office that is without precedent. Each has adopted an attitude of rule or ruin. The one who is defeated seems to desire, even to hope, that he can carry his party down to defeat with him.

Friday afternoon McAdoo announced to his followers that he would "fight to the last drop of his blood." He will have the nomination though the heavens fall. Like Shylock, he will exact the last ounce of blood. How far the Democratic leaders have wandered from the glorious youth of their once great party! Gone is the race of Democrats that would not stoop to scramble for a nomination. It was once a part of the Democratic creed that the office should seek the man. The older race of Democrats possessed too much dignity to lead themselves a fight for their personal advantage.

McAdoo, Smith and the other leaders now go after the nomination like a drummer after an order. There was a time when one was supposed to make a personal sacrifice to serve the hope in an executive capacity. But that was before the spoils system had become so rank a growth; it was in the era when modesty was still a virtue. A candidate who found that his friends were pressing his merits and claims to the extent that it was injuring the chances of his party for final victory would promptly order his name withdrawn.

There was once a spirit of patriotism, which was a kind of byproduct of national patriotism, which placed the interest of the party above personal interest. But that spirit was killed in the Democratic party in the Baltimore convention. When a candidate who received a majority of the votes of the delegates was denied the nomination party spirit was eliminated and personal interest entered.

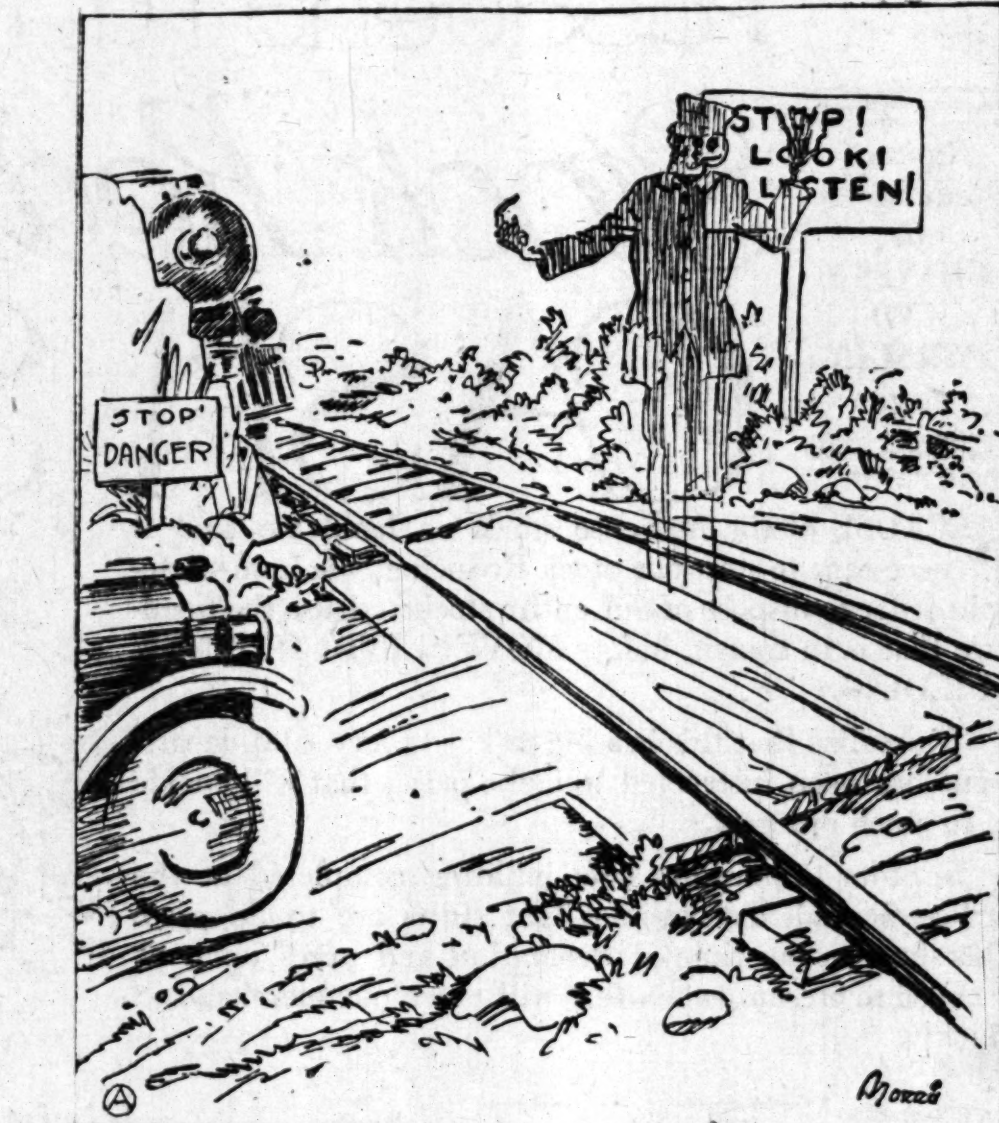

One incident in Saturday's session of the convention typifies the gathering. The body was in one of its recessed upshots. Chairman Walsh seized his gavel, which is so large that it resembles a maul, and beat the desk so vigorously that the head of the gavel parted from the handle and struck one of the delegates so violent a blow on the head that he was carried senseless from the hall. A convention in which such procedure is necessary is the antithesis of a deliberative assembly.

For two weeks there has been a violent conflict of passion, emotion and prejudice. It has been a Donnybrook fair. A British correspondent termed it "organized insanity." At one time 600 policemen were called into the hall to stop a lean chewing gum is doing the business according to a couple of correspondents, the use of American gum has become quite the regular thing among the fashionable women of Berlin. It has been commended as easing the nerves as well as simplifying digestion. It is believed that the use of gum encourages the philosopher's view of life and permits one to bear his burdens with greater calmness and imperturbability.

AN ANGRY WORLD
Just now America is the goat. The new immigration act, made necessary by conditions over which we appear to have control, has fanned the embers of discord. We may have any claim to having a real friend in the rest of the world, but on now is the time to act, for there isn't a nation that would rush to our relief. Even Britannia would take her sweet time before she would take our behalf. Our consuls in half a dozen countries have been stung by insulting natives and hardly a week passes but finds our flag scorned or upbraided. If Uncle Sam were disposed to be petulant or snappish he could have a fresh war every day.

It seems that a large proportion of the population of most of the other countries had it in mind to settle in America some day, and our latest immigration law muscled up the plans. Lots of them will never be able to make it. So they ease their feelings by lambasting America and all Americans. They may yet go so mad at us that they won't take our money and they will be in a pretty fix. They have their thumbs up their noses as they trade and when we are not looking they make faces at our stately banner. Take it one way and another, it is a mighty peevish world we have before us. There isn't enough brotherly love to stake us to a doughnut.

tist and dynamo of the radio world, is authority for this statement.

The liberation of the atom, according to M. Dubilier, will put under man's complete control a force "which will not alone do his work, but the work of the entire world. When this happy time arrives suffering, poverty and work will be unknown quantities and the residents of this vale of tears will revel in unlimited luxuries and untold varieties of pleasure—it will be all play and no work."

The only fly in the ointment, from the layman's point of view, is the fact that, up to date, no scientist has devised a means of liberating the atom. They admit that it can be done, but are somewhat at a loss how to proceed.

Dr. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology is a recognized world authority on the potentialities of the atom. He is less extravagant in his claims than M. Dubilier and he is more concerned about the problem of accomplishing its release; but he, too, looks forth with hope that, when the atom is liberated, untold power will be released for the service of mankind.

Like all natural forces, it will prove a blessing or a bane, according to the manner in which it is applied. Put to the uses of war the race might easily exterminate itself by its own inventions.

M. Dubilier seems to be occupied chiefly with the contemplation of the gladiolous results to be achieved through this liberation. He says: "Take, for instance, a lump of coal. We know that it is simply an incomprehensibly large number of electrical particles clustering together. If these particles could be liberated and controlled they would provide vastly more power than would be needed to operate all the machinery that man could ever devise."

In that little "it" lies the great obstacle. However, now that sporadic days have slipped up on us, all that the crude, unscientific mind can say is, "Bring on your atoms quick and liberate them."

OLD GLORY AND THE INSULT
There is no question about the sincerity of the Japanese government in tracking down and punishing the young ruffians who stole the American Embassy's flag in Tokyo.

Latest reports are that the three boys apprehended are to be punished with a two-year sentence. It would appear that they are of the young hoodlum class, whose emotions toward the great United States can be of no possible account or real responsibility.

Under the circumstances it might prove the silliest and magnanimous thing on the part of this country to ask that the irresponsible young ruffians be pardoned, since their conviction would sufficiently satisfy any sense of insult Americans may have felt.

After all, there can be little satisfaction in this country in having three irresponsible boys spend two years in jail for such an offense—where the magnanimity of a plea for pardon on our part might create an infinitely happier impression.

STANDING THE TEST
Was democracy a product of the United States or the United States of democracy? The fact is that the two were so closely united that no one has been able to separate them.

Our hardy forefathers were equal largely because they were equal. They were hardy because only the hardy ones had the nerve to emigrate or the ability to survive the rough ocean voyage and pioneering conditions.

Agriculture and the home industries were the means of making a living. Nobody needed to work for wages because land was so plentiful and the craftsman needed only skill and little or no capital. One man was so plainly as good, or nearly as good, as another that Jefferson's self-evident truth was true for the time and place.

The conditions and the men interacted to preserve equality, in a measure; in a great measure there has been in most other lands in historic time. It is hard to imagine how anything else than democracy could have been the result. And democracy, to an extent, is self-perpetuating.

The present century will furnish its real test. And it is depressing to reflect that only half the qualified electors voted at the last Presidential election.

GOSSIP OR JUSTICE
Col. Doherty says that he is glad to get a change of venue from the tribunal of politics to one of justice. The people are glad of it, too. In these business days the courts let the courts decide, but let there be an end of the frittering away of reputations on hearsay evidence and old wives' tales.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

"Oh, Reason, Come to Our Aid!"
British banks are receiving enormous gold shipments from Russia as credit basis for huge orders for war material. Victrolas alone are at contract to manufacture 2000 airplanes before spring. Clothing, shoes, rifles, ammunition, tanks and hospital supplies are scheduled to leave Britain by the boatload within a few weeks. Now this does not mean that the Russians want peace, and therefore, are preparing for war. They are preparing for war, because they want war. Paris believes that by next spring the soviets will march upon Rumania and Poland. Propaganda is not enough apparently. The social revolution must be coaxed along with force of arms. If Russia actually attacks Poland and Rumania, France will be drawn in. Italy and Britain, who have recognized Russia, will remain neutral in the present question in Germany. Should Germany side with the soviets a world conflagration is not improbable.

Mute Strings Speak Again

Frantz Oumont, famous archaeologist, has brought back with him to France a harp which he found on the borders of the Euphrates River near the crumbling ruins of the ancient city of Babylon. Turn to the Bible for a moment and read that overwhelmingly pathetic song, the 137th Psalm: "By the rivers of Babylon there we sat down; yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion. We hanged our harps on the willow trees in the midst thereof. How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?" Oumont's harp is 3700 years old. Perhaps it is one of the Jewish instruments brought to Babylon during their captivity. In the strange land its strings were mute, but what glorious music of oriental exoticism and religious fervor had not vibrated from its chords when it was still in the land of David, that immortal singer?

RIPLING RHYMES

EVENING AT HOME

I spend the evening hours at home, my harp upon my knee, and read an essay and a poem and sermons two or three. No street adventures can produce such pleasure as I know; I read the works of Mother Goose while golden moments flow. My friends exclaim, "We'll see the sights the village can afford; to sit around and read of night would hardly be good. And so with other reckless bloods they turn the night to day and blow for soda-fountain suds a portion of their pay. They patronize the noisy dance and flirt with giddy queens, and every time they have a chance they play the slot machines. They fall for every garish fake, they're snared by gold-brick sharks, and in the morning when they wake they feel like German marks. They wring their teeth in vain remorse, they gnash their hands in vain, and for the moment they endorse my conduct safe and sane. But when the night again arrives they will not sit with me and read Bill Shakespeare's 'Merry Wives' while golden moments flee. They all put on their picnic duds, silk hats and gabardines and go to drink the kickless suds and play the slot machines. Their methods I shall not traduce; let each man choose his play; for me the works of Mother Goose, for them the Great White Way."

JOTS FROM A JOURNEY

BY ESTELLE HEARTT DREYFUS

THE ANDES

The Andes, how can one say them! He cannot, he can only tell of himself and how he, in his own small way, came to this great experience.

My first mental impression of the Andes was gained from a young country school-mistress who called them the "Andes," and a United States geography, that kind with a wide, stiff cover, many pictures and large maps.

But now and forever the Andes are linked with the gigantic things of my travel life—Grand Canyon of Arizona, Niagara Falls, Yosemite Valley, Sydney Bay and the Gulf of Australia, the Panama Canal, the topmost ridge of Gibraltar with its vistas, the beloved Alps, Mt. Etna, rising spiritlike from the ocean, and lastly the Andes, with its Mt. Anconagua (23,300 feet) in awe-inspiring grandeur.

Taking the train at Santiago de Chile we changed cars at L.L.L.L.L.L.L.L. where we met another train from Valparaiso and continued together on up to the little town of Los Andes, where we passed the night and at which station the railroad has provided a very good hotel, severe in all its appointments, but comfortable and clean. Here also in found a statue the memory of "The Brothers Clark" bearing on it a bronze bas-relief of their profiles and a tablet of appreciation couched in almost tender terms. The next day, as you are drawn as surely by these tremendous heights and curves, your thoughts pay a constant tribute to the vision and determination of these two brothers, who, against untold hardships of weather, altitude and mechanical problems, planned and achieved so vast a work.

Not only have you a sense of utmost security in this "slip-and-catch" system of narrow-gauge railroad, but you have the privilege of the most luxurious and spacious chair car that I have ever been fortunate enough to ride in—wide seats upholstered in soft, green leather and wider windows made entirely of glass, a most excellent dining car and thoroughly fine service. We learned, however, they have only had these special Pullmans for the past few months. In the past, on account of the heavy fall of snow, these trains have had to be discontinued during the winter. Now the excellently built snow sheds and tunnels of stone will make it possible to keep the road open during the entire year. This will not only be of interest to visiting tourists, but, as it is the only railroad gate-way to the province of Chile, a most important commercial value as well.

The other day here in Buenos Aires we met the driver of the first "male coach" over the Andes and, as we spoke enthusiastically of the scenic advantages of the Trans-Andean Railroad trip, the look of disgust which came over his face made us pause. In Argentine Spanish (quite a dialect) he pictured for us, with bright eyes and expressive Latin gesticulations—the Midway Inn—hurried arrivals and departures, the changing of horses, the crack of the whip, presto—the four extra hours seemed as nothing, and we agreed with him that it must have been much more thrilling to see the Andes from the train.

And, oh, the things one saw when he went in the old way—for example, the condor, that great mountain bird, so strong that he is as hardy as the Chileans on their dollar as the emblem of power and superiority. A man seeing a condor going for a calf sought to kill the condor with his knife, but the condor proved the stronger and the man was killed instead. Why, I myself saw a boy being carried off by one, and—just here we grew a bit doubtful and thought perhaps our reporter had been reading Jules Verne. He continued—"and that beautiful little lake you came upon in the very heart of the Andes, said bird, so strong that he is as hardy as the Chileans on their dollar as the emblem of power and superiority. A JOURNEY

HEART DREYFUS ANDES

at Los Andes to 4 p.m. Monday could hold more stimulus
does this trans-Andean trip;
you do as we did, take a "sactorio," which means "sleeping car,"
at Mendoza, you will not sleep
very long at a time. It is not cause of the crosswise berth
the opposite of our United States cars; for these means "sleeping
ly new experience to you, but one of our party said, "Why
"dormitorio" would make a
Fe box car, seem like a cruise
We noticed the native South and they were wise. They said was because they preferred

"break the trip," and slightly thought "and not their backs."
we were never sure were they were as the rails or the ties,
ever, after a warm breakfast
the excellent diner we felt and could really look about observe "the pampa, over which we were rapidly passing.
Pampas, we are told, is the canian Indian word, meaning tile plains—but I had dreamed they held the fertility
well-watered areas which between Mendoza and Buenos
One sees thoroughbred cattle,
very sort, birds of many kinds,
triches, storks, flamingos, guinea
ducks—estancia (ranches) with well-planted groups of shade forming various geometric signs which add a large picturesqueness—lakes, con-

there seems to be no speed
I noticed we carried twelve to dig for kings of old.

Some others to Alaska to

The ancient hole of Second meets every antique need.
A story has been handed through centuries goes to How specimens most perfect in tunnel there did lie
And lie and lie for ages white populace stood by
In perpetual wonder of a
that would not die.
And it's now they say the
will be permitted to
To gaze with rapt eyes at oligarchy sin.
To see the seventh wonder
been hidden all these years
To watch the politicians
with mystifying cheer.
I thank my God for letting me
long enough for this.
For grand-dad said a

The New Jazz
JAZZ music has taken a new due principally, it is
be regarded as any special to the efforts of a Los An-chestra leader who is touring jazz palaces of the world.
He has turned the dancing
of a bobbed-haired generation
the jazz places which were tum tummy tum in jazz
like Marquette.
Well, anyhow, that is
of an advance.
These tummy tum songs revision to barbarism. It is the kind of music that is in the best mix African where the ladies with rires
their noses beat on drums,
the gentlemen stamp around the skulls of their consorts
ling around their necks.
That kind of jazz was behind the foot-tom of the Indian "music" and the semblance of melody and Our "one-steps" had nothing
were merely senseless noise.

Twenty Thousand Lovers of Music Expected

First Program to Feature Works of Masters

Wagner and Tschaiikowsky Included on Bill

With the opening program arranged, Hollywood Bowl is in readiness to receive the 20,000 music lovers expected to assemble there tomorrow night for the first Bowl concert of the season.

The music of two great masters, Wagner and Tschaiikowsky, will predominate the opening program. Conductor Hertz stated. The works of Liszt and Saint-Saens will be presented on the same program and rendered by the 100 picked symphony artists who compose the orchestra.

Concerts will be given at the Bowl every Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday night until August 19, when the season ends. Three afternoon concerts, scheduled on alternate Wednesdays will be given primarily for school children, who will be admitted free.

COMPLAINT OVER WATER HAS RESULT

Extensive Improvements Being Made to System in Hermosa-Redondo

Extensive improvements in the water system of the Hermosa-Redondo Water Company are under way as the result of a protest filed with the informal complaint division of the Railroad Commission by Frank L. Perry, City Attorney of Redondo Beach.

The informal complaint of the city, which was filed with the commission last May, stated that the water service in the vicinity of North Helberta avenue and North Juanita avenue, and other parts of the city, known as Clifton-by-the-Sea, is so poor that the residents were often forced to carry water in buckets in order to obtain a supply for ordinary domestic use. Complainant further stated that the pressure at all times was wholly inadequate. An extensive investigation was made by engineers of the commission's hydraulic division and conferences were held between representatives of the city, the company and the commission, to afford immediate relief. This temporary plant will be superseded by a further supply the pressure plant, but this has been ordered, and arrangements have been made to install the equipment as soon as same is delivered.

Difficulty was experienced in obtaining the construction of the necessary electric lines to supply the pressure plant, but this has been overcome. The complete installation should be in operation this month.

RAILWAY IN HOT VALLEY WOULD QUIT

"Low Down" on Line That Earned $23.78 Last Year to Be Revealed Today

What promises to be the "low down" on the business of the Death Valley Railroad Company, which has operated at a decided loss from the lowest point in the United States, will be told Examiner Handford of the State Railroad Commission when a hearing on the company's application to abandon the line will be called at 10 o'clock today.

The company's application declares that for the entire year of 1923 its earnings amounted to $23.78, while this figure, swelled by traffic of a film company which sought the desert for a location, was far above normal. In fact, all but $1.22 was collected from the motion-picture people.

The company asks permission to abandon this unproductive public service and operate merely as a private concern in the employ of the Pacific Coast Borax Company, located in the valley. The line is a narrow-gauge affair, some twenty miles in length.

READY FOR SACRED DRAMA

Pilgrimage Play Will Give First Show of Season Tonight in Open-Air Theater

Tonight marks the opening of the fifth annual season of the Pilgrimage Play, Life of the Christ, and the event will be made the occasion for a large number of special parties, with many tourists making up a generous share of the big audience.

Far-famed as America's Passion Play, this beautiful sacred drama has attracted the interest of people all over the entire world, and many visitors to Los Angeles and other nearby communities have remained over until the opening date of the play in order that they might attend.

Several changes made in the production and strengthening of the cast is declared to have brought the Pilgrimage Play as close to the point of perfection as it is humanly possible to make it.

The lighting effects are also even more beautiful than in the preceding years, if such is possible, while the accompanying music serves to provide another charm to this great religious drama.

Excellent parking facilities are provided for the motorists, this year, driveways into the grounds having been regraded and surfaced anew. The big open-air theater has also been reconstructed for the comfort of the attending throngs.

The Pilgrimage Theater is located at the junction of Cahuenga and Highland avenues, and during the limited season of the Pilgrimage Play special car service will be provided directly to the entrance of the grounds, running through Hollywood from the Hill-street station.

Motorists will find an easy route to the theater by way of Hollywood Boulevard to Cahuenga avenue, thence north and directly to the entrance.

Seats for the Pilgrimage Play are on sale at Barker Brothers, 1114 South Broadway, telephone Metropolitan 1840, at the Kress Drug Store in Hollywood, at Stirk's Music and at the theater's box office. The play begins promptly at 8 o'clock and it is urged that those attending the play be in their seats before that hour in order that they may miss no part of the beautiful prelude.

Auto Is Struck by Truck; One Man May Die

George Lewis, of 735 Lamar street, probably will die from injuries received in an automobile collision late Saturday night in Coyote Pass, north of Belvedere. Will You Give One of Your Lights to the Farmer?

Two People to One Light

—it can be done quite easily and will help Farmers Save Their Crops!

8 Ways You Can Save Electricity In Your Home

1. Unscrew all bulbs from lighting fixtures not absolutely needed.
2. Use smaller bulbs wherever possible.
3. Unscrew unnecessary bulbs in chandeliers and group lights.
4. Turn off lights when not needed (listen to your radio in the dark).
5. Arrange so two or more persons can read from same lamp.
6. Use porch, hall, garage and basement lights only when immediately required.
7. Put away your electric utensils, toasters, percolators, waffle irons, etc.—use the kitchen stove. Discontinue temporarily the use of electric fans.
8. Enlist the aid of servants and all members of your family to save electricity.

Practice These Savings In Your Business

1. Discontinue all local signs and display lighting.
2. Discontinue all flood lighting.
3. Use only half the usual lighting in show windows.
4. Reduce interior lighting by removing at least one-fourth the lamps.

THAT big table lamp with three lights going gives light enough for two to read—why burn an extra one at extra cost to you?

That one light turned out in many homes will help thousands of farmers.

They need it badly—do you need it as much?

We know that public-spirited people will respond to this request.

It is a chance for you to help in a cause that you will want to serve. It costs you really nothing and it is really vital to the farmer now.

The reason is this: Southern California agriculture depends to a large extent on electric power to pump water essential for irrigation. A cut of 25 per cent in the use of this power cannot be made by agriculture without serious damage to orchards and loss of crops through lack of water.

Because of light winter rains, there is little moisture stored in the soil this year and more than the usual amount of water is therefore needed. Water drawn direct by gravity from our mountain watersheds is also scarce, necessitating more pumping. As a result, the below-the-surface level of water has dropped so that our wells must go deeper and therefore require more electricity for pumping.

Farm production in Southern California, with an annual valuation of one hundred and eighty million dollars, is in grave danger if this electric current essential for pumping irrigation water cannot be supplied.

The undersigned Growers Associations, representing 14,000 families, appeal to the public-spirited citizens of Los Angeles to practice every possible economy in the use of electricity so that the power vital to agricultural production may be supplied. Your co-operation is needed.
